President's Message

Fiscal year 2019 was a period of extraordinary change at Evangelical Community Hospital.

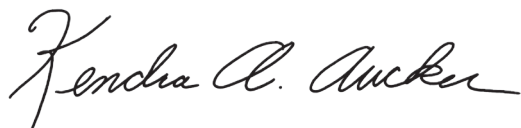

We signaled our strategic intent by announcing a stronger relationship with Geisinger. The unique agreement positions Evangelical to move forward as an independent community hospital while working more closely with Geisinger to make healthcare delivery in our region more efficient, cost-effective, and simply better for the patients we serve.

The Hospital broke ground on our most ambitious construction project to date—a 112,000-square-foot expansion that, while not changing our bed complement, will significantly impact how care is delivered at Evangelical. Patients and families will be admitted to private rooms with their own bathrooms, and our caregivers will have the space and privacy they need to support the healing process.

We started the move to a single, integrated electronic medical record. The transition will improve efficiency as providers and staff no longer must jump from one system to another in caring for patients.

We shifted our strategic employee training to better address social issues impacting the community beyond our Hospital's walls. We addressed suicide awareness, took a fresh, more personalized look at sexual harassment, moved to help alleviate the opioid addiction epidemic, and developed an award-winning human trafficking education model that is being replicated at other institutions in Pennsylvania.

In short, we spent the fiscal year adding dimension—to our physical footprint, to our strategic direction, to our digital infrastructure, and to our community impact.

PRIME

In fiscal year 2019, the Patient Room Improvement, Modernization, and Enhancement (PRIME) project went from idea to steel reality.

The 112,000-square-foot, four-story expansion will not change the number of beds the Hospital provides; it will, however, tremendously impact the way care is delivered. Patients and their families will see private rooms with private baths. The new rooms will also include improved family visiting spaces for privacy. Physicians, nurses, technicians, and other team members will have the space they need to provide efficient care in an appropriate setting.

The private rooms alone will encourage better infection control for patients, afford patients a better opportunity to rest and recover, and allow for more confidential communication with caregivers.

PRIME also includes the renovation of 20,000 square feet of existing space, allowing for all areas of the Hospital to be modernized and used to the best of their ability.

JUNE 2018

Kendra Aucker, controlling an excavator, initiated a ceremonial demolition of the former outpatient services building. The building was removed to make way for more parking.

JUNE 2018

Staff members, providers, patient advocates, board members, and leaders were invited to take tours of a mocked-up patient room and bathroom to get a “real feel” of how the rooms will function once completed.

AUGUST 2018

Ground was officially broken to begin PRIME on August 30, 2018. Employees, executive leaders, dignitaries, and supporters of the Hospital took part in a special ceremony honoring the occasion. Employees were also invited to “turn dirt” on the construction site during the employee summer picnic, which was held the same day.

Enhancing the Evangelical
EXPERIENCE

A Campaign to Care for the Community

SEPTEMBER 2018

Evangelical announced Enhancing the Evangelical Experience, its capital campaign geared toward caring for the community. At the end of fiscal year 2019, slightly more than $6 million had been raised for the campaign.

APRIL 2019

With foundations poured and groundwork ready, large cranes became a welcome sight on the campus and began erecting steel framework, piece-by-piece, each forming what will be PRIME.

MAY 2019

For two weeks in May, employees and volunteers who supported the PRIME project with financial gifts were invited to sign a special beam to be placed inside the structure. At the end of the fiscal year, 100 percent of all management and executive leadership plus 35 percent of the Hospital's staff committed to being HERO (Helping Evangelical Reach Out) members and being part of the future of Evangelical.

MAY 2019

Concrete was poured into the structure, making solid surfaces on which construction crews could work. This advancement paved the way for duct and pipe work, fire protection, plumbing, and more to begin.

EXPECTED COMPLETION

The new construction is expected to be completed and occupied by August 2020.

Total project completion of all phases of PRIME is expected to be May 2021.

JUNE 2019

On Monday, June 3, 2019, Evangelical employees gathered for a topping out ceremony for PRIME. The crowd watched as the final steel beam was placed on the building's exterior skeleton. The beam carried with it the signatures of employees and volunteers who have financially supported the PRIME project and set the cornerstone for a future of caring by the dedicated professionals of Evangelical.

‘...SIMPLY BETTER FOR THE PATIENTS WE SERVE.’

Evangelical Community Hospital and Geisinger announce a unique relationship

On October 1, 2018, Evangelical Community Hospital and Geisinger jointly announced a new and unique way of delivering healthcare to surrounding communities. It’s an approach that serves to strengthen the extraordinary level of care already afforded to the Central Susquehanna Valley.

“We realized that we can best continue to meet the needs of our community by remaining an independent community hospital and by strengthening our relationship with our trusted and nationally renowned partners, Geisinger and Geisinger Health Plan,” said Kendra Aucker, President and CEO, Evangelical Community Hospital. “Through this unique arrangement, Geisinger made a capital investment in Evangelical, and Evangelical will work with Geisinger to make healthcare delivery in our region more efficient, cost-effective, and simply better for the patients we serve.”

David T. Feinberg, MD, MBA, who was serving as Geisinger’s President and CEO at the time of the announcement, added, “(this stronger relationship) keeps care close to home and makes it easier for more patients to access the outstanding healthcare already available here in Central Pennsylvania.”

Together, the two organizations will invest $265 million over the next five years to enhance the health of their shared communities.

In addition, Evangelical is sharing in Geisinger’s information technology innovations, including a transition to the Epic electronic medical record platform and Geisinger’s proprietary suite of business IT systems. Evangelical also now enjoys Tier 1 status with Geisinger Health Plan, meaning individuals with that coverage will no longer face higher out-of-pocket costs to seek their care at the Lewisburg-based Hospital.

Geisinger has appointed six of the community members who serve on Evangelical’s Board, while Evangelical has appointed a community member to the Geisinger Health Plan Board.

October’s announcement came after a year-long competitive process by Evangelical to determine how to best serve the healthcare needs of the community in the face of increasing challenges. After exploring a variety of models and discussions with multiple potential partners, Evangelical’s Board of Directors decided that Evangelical will remain an independent community hospital with a strengthened partnership with Geisinger.

A national consultant with decades of experience in the healthcare industry suggested the agreement might be the only one of its kind in the country.

Investing $265 million

Together, Geisinger and Evangelical will invest $265 million over the next five years to make healthcare delivery in the region more efficient, cost-effective, and simply better for the patients both serve.

Geisinger Health Plan

Evangelical and its employed practices are afforded Tier 1 status in the Geisinger Health Plan, meaning individuals with that coverage will no longer face higher out-of-pocket costs to seek care at Evangelical.

Transition to Epic

Evangelical is transitioning to a single, integrated IT system featuring the Epic electronic medical record and Geisinger's full suite of proprietary business IT systems.

Board Members

Geisinger has appointed 30 percent of the community members who serve on Evangelical's Board, and Geisinger Health Plan has welcomed Evangelical to appoint a community member to its Board.

Exploring Options

Evangelical and Geisinger are exploring joint ventures and other ways of meeting the emerging health needs of the communities both serve.

America's Best Mid-Sized Employers

EMPLOYERS

POWERED BY STATISTA

Evangelical Community Hospital was recognized by Forbes as one of America's best mid-sized employers in 2018 in the healthcare and social industry. Forbes Media is a global media, branding, and technology company, with a focus on news and information about business, investing, technology, entrepreneurship, leadership, and affluent lifestyles. Here, Hospital employees are enjoying a treat during National Hospital Week.

An Epic Conversion

Evangelical Community Hospital is preparing for a significant shift that will improve workflow, enhance patient safety, and make it easier for patients who cross among providers to get their care.

In early 2019, the Hospital took the first steps toward a single, fully integrated information technology system. The process, expected to take a little more than two years, includes a move to the Epic electronic medical record as well as Geisinger's suite of proprietary IT business systems.

The transition will effectively impact every electronic system in the organization.

Converting the clinical systems to Epic will improve efficiency as providers and staff no longer must jump from one system to another in caring for patients. It will also allow for a more efficient exchange of patient health information between Geisinger and Evangelical. The reality of healthcare in the Central Susquehanna Valley is patients often move among providers as their health needs change.

Still in the opening stages of the effort, work groups are being formed, super users and subject matter experts are being recruited, and a carefully orchestrated plan is being finalized.

With every system and just about every workflow impacted, it's a mammoth effort. Resources—including previous transition experience, staff, and funds for the transition—are being pulled from the recently announced enhanced relationship with Geisinger. In short, leadership is committed to ensuring every department has the support it needs, both in terms of knowledge and manpower, to work through the transition and get every team member properly trained.

Evangelical is expected to go live with the Epic platform on July 18, 2021, with the business systems to follow in the next 10 to 12 months.

SOCIAL ISSUES

At Evangelical, caring for the health of the community goes beyond the clinical. It's also being aware of and addressing social issues such as mental health and suicide, opioid use and addiction, sexual harassment, and human trafficking that are impacting daily the lives and well-being of those in surrounding communities. People affected, both patients and employees, are walking through the Hospital's doors, doing their best to cope silently and not outwardly asking for help.

In fiscal year 2019, a new goal was set to do what could be done as a Hospital and staff to increase awareness and positively impact these social issues.

Mental Health and Suicide Prevention

This issue was personal, as the Hospital lost two staff members to suicide in fiscal year 2019. Realizing that it is becoming more and more difficult to balance life and work mentally, physically, and emotionally, Kendra Aucker, President and CEO, directly encouraged the workforce to use the resources available to them to get the help they need in a confidential setting. Utilizing the expertise of Evangelical's staff psychologist, mandatory education was created to assist in an understanding of suicide and the importance of caring for mental health. The education also served to break down the stigma that might be associated with mental health issues. EvanCARES continued its efforts to serve as a resource to staff in response to critical incidents, recruited new members to be available as support persons, and increased awareness about services such as the 24/7 Employee Assistance Program.

Opioid Use and Addiction

The Hospital was awarded a grant from the Central Pennsylvania Workforce Development Corporation (CPWDC) as part of a U.S. Department of Labor National Health Emergency Dislocated Worker Demonstration Grant to Address the Opioid Crisis. Modeling another successful program, the Hospital will use grant funds to train selected clinical and nursing staff as chemical dependency specialists. Stronger efforts will be available to aid staff in making warm hand-offs of individuals suffering from addiction issues to experienced rehab programs and available mental health care. Additional staff training will increase awareness of the public health crisis and reduce the stigma and bias in caring for the community.

Sexual Harassment

Evangelical has always trained staff on sexual harassment. However, with the more intense focus of the MeToo movement, a new training module was created in fiscal year 2019. The fresh approach to the mandatory training included listening to audio of personal harassment stories. These snippets of real people sharing their experiences gave greater insight into the many levels harassment can take.

Human Trafficking

One would think that human trafficking would be a non-issue for the area surrounding Evangelical. The reality is that being located near major roadways that lead to and from large cities, the Central Susquehanna Valley is a prime location for this sadly all-too-common issue.

The training and on-site experts have created a staff prepared to identify, assess, and intervene when necessary in suspected cases of human trafficking.

Evangelical's human trafficking response model achieved more than success at the organizational level. The work was given high honors, receiving The Hospital and Healthsystem Association of Pennsylvania (HAP) Optimal Operations Achievement Award.

• TRAINING AND DEVELOPMENT

Leadership participated in live training sessions about the realities of human trafficking. That education then expanded to online learning programs in which all 1,896 employees took part, with 1,200 employees opting for an extra classroom session because of their desire to learn more about the issue.

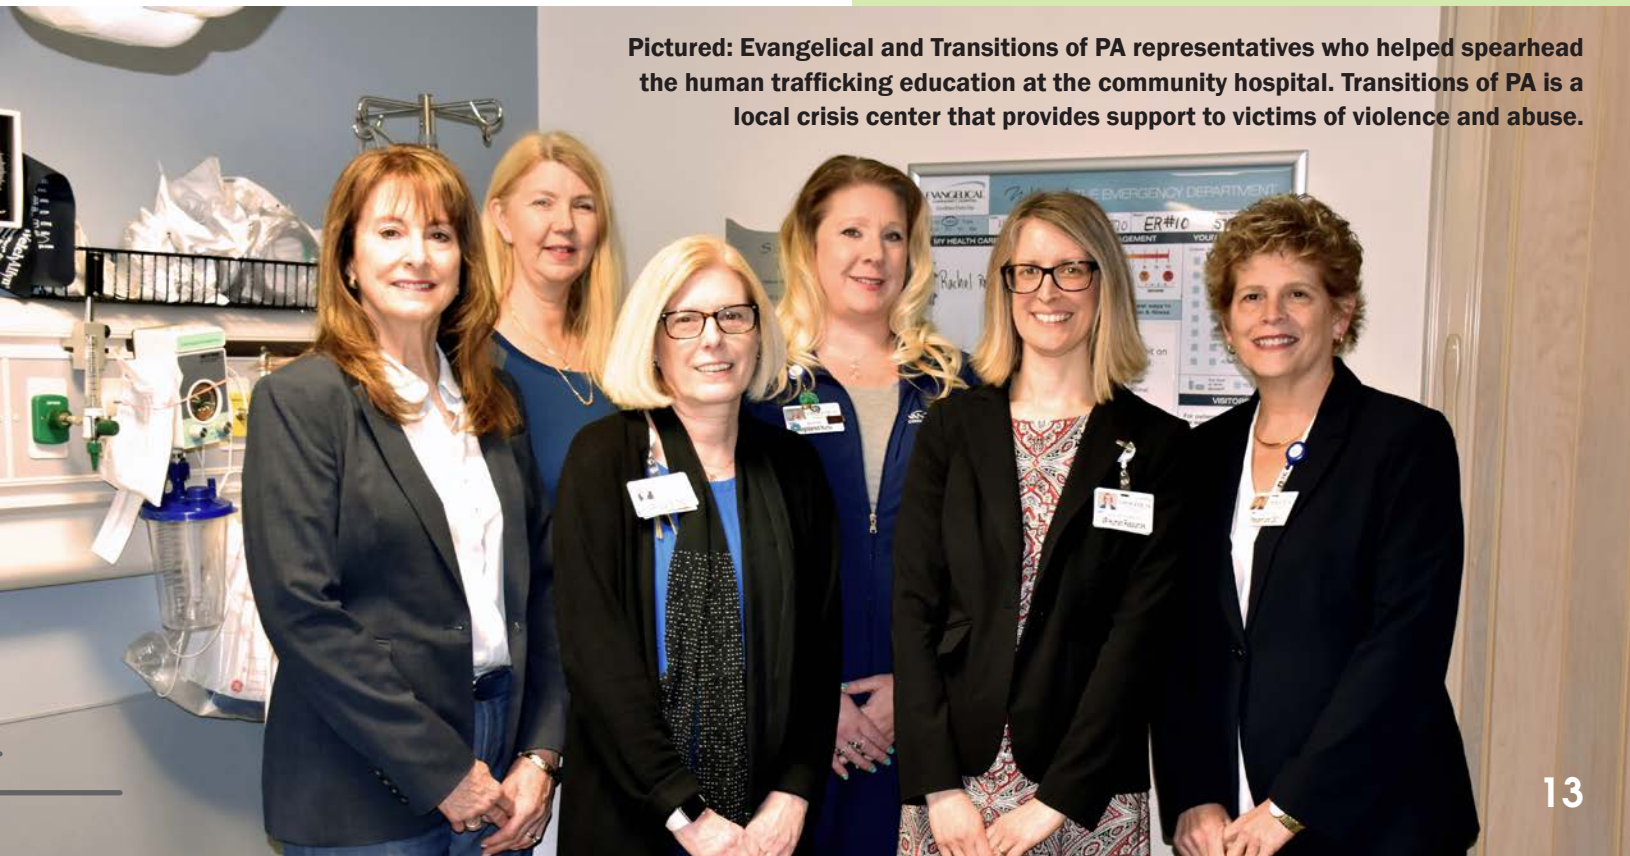

• ON-CALL EXPERTS

The Hospital established several on-call experts who work within the system and utilize community resources to expedite the handling of suspected human trafficking cases.

• CHAMPIONS IDENTIFIED

Select employees have been recruited to serve as trained individuals who assist in identifying cases that might need attention and then work to liaison with the on-call expert.

GIFTS TO SUPPORT OPERATIONS FISCAL YEAR 2019

Healthiest Companies in America

Interactive Health named 151 employers as the “Healthiest Companies in America,” and Evangelical Community Hospital was one of 11 in Pennsylvania to earn the honor. The annual award recognizes corporations that have invested in and improved the health of their workers. Pictured are members of the Wellness Committee.

Optimal Operations Achievement

Evangelical Community Hospital earned an achievement award from The Hospital and Healthsystem Association of Pennsylvania (HAP) for its outstanding effort to improve healthcare in the communities it serves.

Evangelical's entry, "Community Hospital Drives Awareness of Human Trafficking...A Roadmap to Success," was chosen as an Optimal Operations Achievement award winner. The Hospital's program helped train nearly 2,000 healthcare workers to identify and respond to human trafficking victims. The model is now being used by other healthcare providers to also train their employees. Pictured: HAP, Evangelical, and Transitions of PA representatives.

The Evangelical Gala and Auction

The Gala was held on Saturday, March 9, in the Elaine Langone Center at Bucknell University. The event included a cocktail hour, dinner, dancing, and a silent auction. More than $114,000 was raised in support of Evangelical Community Hospital's important community care initiatives, and it will also help to fund the largest building project in the Hospital's history—PRIME (Patient Room Improvement, Modernization, and Enhancement).

The HERO Club recognizes all Hospital employees and volunteers who have given during fiscal year 2019.

The Athena Award

The Greater Susquehanna Valley Chamber of Commerce awarded Kendra Aucker, center, President and CEO of Evangelical, with the 2018 Athena Award. The Athena Award was created to recognize outstanding leaders who demonstrate excellence, creativity, and initiative in their business or profession; provide valuable service to improve the quality of life for others in their community; and actively assist women in achieving their full leadership potential. Pictured are representatives of the GSVCC and past Athena Award winners.

Financial Report

FISCAL YEAR 2019

Evangelical Community Hospital continued growing its services and expanding its facilities in fiscal year 2019, meeting the community's health and wellness needs in ways not typically associated with community hospitals.

Net revenue in fiscal year 2019 grew by 4.8 percent and the gains were, as they always are, re-invested in the Hospital's people, its equipment, and its infrastructure. Evangelical successfully added an additional specialist after finalizing the acquisition of a local gastroenterology practice. The Hospital unveiled a new physical therapy location in Lewisburg while completing about $1.4-million worth of upgrades to its catheterization lab. And, after ceremonial groundbreaking in August, work commenced in earnest on Evangelical's most ambitious construction project to date—a four-story expansion known as PRIME (Patient Room Improvement, Modernization, and Enhancement) that will bring the Hospital's inpatient care areas up to the level of the care delivered in them.

On the other side of the ledger, Evangelical continued its focus on controlling costs through a variety of measures.

"We're committed to being good stewards of the support our community gives us," said James Stopper, Evangelical Chief Financial Officer. "We take every opportunity to reduce expenditures. We utilize group purchasing organizations to secure lower costs on supplies. We analyze staffing ratios throughout the year to ensure efficiency, and we revisit vendor pricing regularly in all areas of operations."

In fiscal year 2019, Evangelical also signaled its strategic path forward, announcing it would remain an independent community hospital with an enhanced relationship with Geisinger. Together, the two organizations have pledged to invest $265 million over the next five years to make healthcare delivery in the region more efficient, cost-effective, and simply better for the patients both serve.

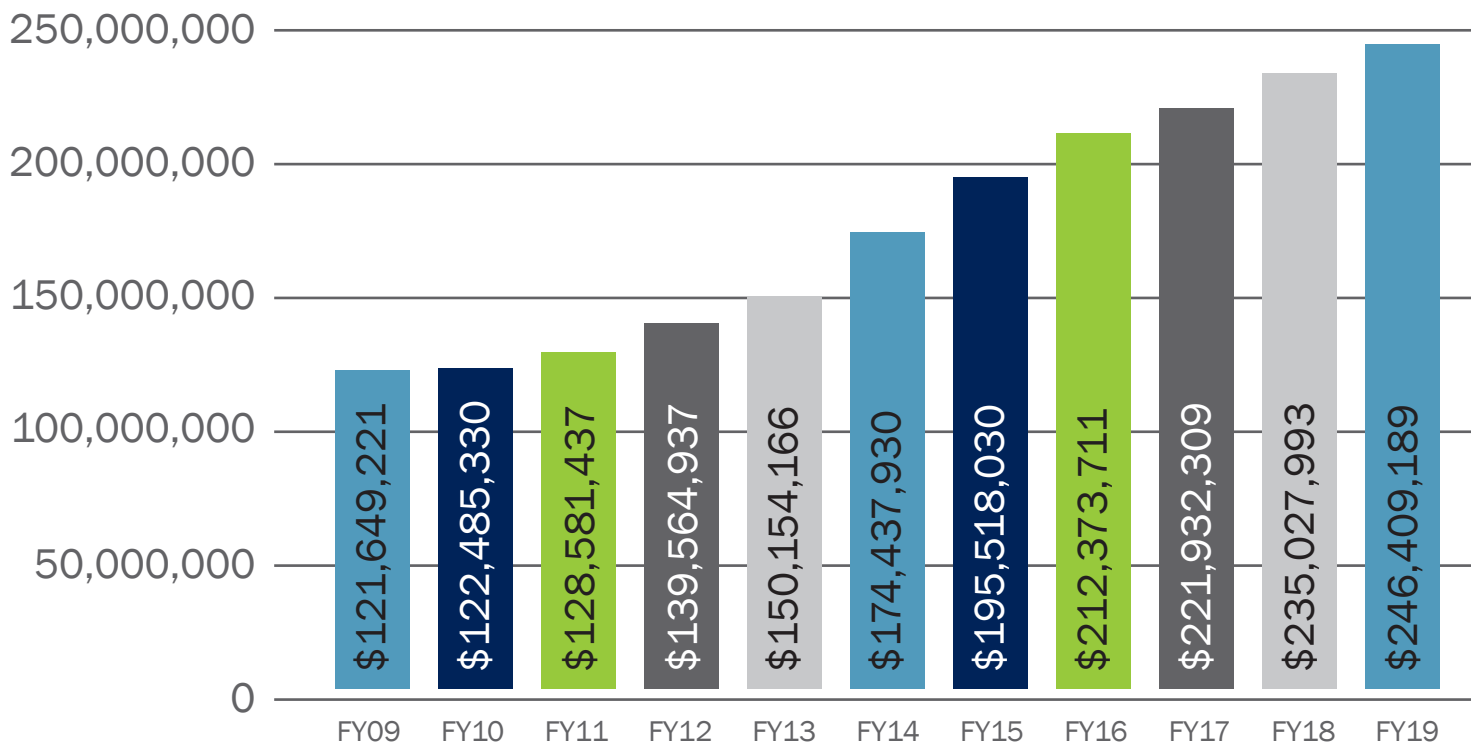

The stronger relationship with Geisinger paved the way for a long-anticipated project. In fiscal year 2019, Evangelical started its transition to a single, integrated information technology system. The process, expected to take a little more than two years, includes a move to the Epic electronic medical record as well as Geisinger's suite of proprietary IT business systems.

All of this—the revamped IT system, new private inpatient care rooms, a growing roster of providers, potential joint ventures with a nationally respected health system, and a continued commitment to the personalized and quality care the community has come to expect of Evangelical—has the community hospital well-positioned for the future.

Sources of Payor Gross Revenue

At Evangelical Community Hospital, a key word is right in the name—COMMUNITY. Improving the health of the communities it serves is fundamental and a commitment rooted deeply in the culture at Evangelical.

In fiscal year 2019, the Hospital invested $39,195,017 in the health of the communities it serves. These funds are what Evangelical gave to support the care of individuals who can't afford to pay for some or all of the costs associated with their treatment, covering government funding shortfalls, the value of donations given to community outreach organizations beyond the Hospital for them to fulfill their own visions of community support, and community health education programs that are provided free of charge to promote healthier living.

Using the community needs assessment as a guide

Knowing where to focus Evangelical's resources starts with a health needs assessment, an opportunity in which Evangelical engages the community every three years to help identify and prioritize the most pressing needs, assets, and opportunities.

Combining the power of local healthcare facilities, Evangelical partnered with Allied Services Integrated Health System and Geisinger to create the 2018 Community Health Needs Assessment. The study area encompassed 19 counties across central, northeastern, and south central Pennsylvania. The data collected will guide the Hospital's efforts from 2019 through 2022. Evangelical serves the central region, which comprises the following counties: Clinton, Columbia, Lycoming, Montour, Northumberland, Schuylkill, Snyder, Sullivan, and Union.

Evangelical's focus based on the current community needs assessment is in the following areas:

- Access to care
- Behavioral healthcare
- Chronic disease prevention and management

Access to care

Through several programs and resources, Evangelical will continue to focus on vulnerable areas of need for improvement to access to care.

These include:

- Free or reduced fee preventive programs such as skin cancer screenings, blood sugar testing, blood pressure checks, comprehensive blood screenings, and more.
- Collaboration with external community organizations to increase awareness of resources available.
- Using Mobile Health of Evangelical to reach populations that are in areas lacking primary care and health screening options locally.
- Provide free food boxes to inpatient and outpatient individuals who are identified as food insecure.
- Continue work with the Nurse-Family Partnership Program for at-risk, young, expectant women to improve pregnancy outcomes, child health and development, and economic self-sufficiency for the family.

Behavioral healthcare

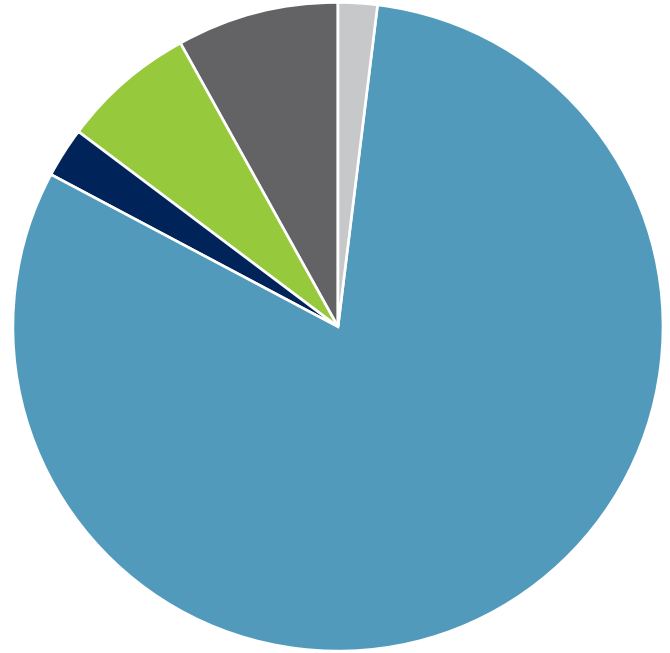

Evangelical has chosen to specifically target mental and behavioral health as it relates to substance abuse and addiction.

This includes:

- Continuing the opioid overdose reversal kits program for community organizations and first responders.
- Serving on the Northumberland, Snyder, and Union County opioid coalitions.
- Utilizing the TelePsych program at the Hospital.
- Continuing to work on drug-take-back efforts in collaboration with community organizations.
- Continuing to educate staff and providers on recognizing signs of individuals needing help and providing the resources necessary to put them in touch with services and programs.

Chronic disease prevention and management

Evangelical will continue to focus on education, healthy lifestyle programming, and prevention screenings to speak to the many chronic diseases that touch its patients.

This includes:

- Offering comprehensive blood screenings throughout the service area and remote areas using Mobile Health of Evangelical.
- Offering free diabetes education and a support group to the community.
- Offering healthy lifestyle programming in schools and to the adult and senior populations both in the community and work site settings.
- Promoting a tobacco cessation program.
- Collaborating with community agencies to promote healthy lifestyle events and programs.

As fiscal year 2020 begins, the Hospital is energized to address the most pressing social issues and to find creative, innovative, and cost-effective ways to address them.
